To whom it may concern,

This is to certify that Mr. Nicolas Dahbar was employed at biddz GmbH as a Working Student from June 1st, 2022, until November 30th, 2022. During this period, Mr. Dahbar served as a Backend Engineer and contributed significantly to our team.

biddz GmbH, based in Berlin, is a music technology company focused on music distribution and community management, with an emphasis on Web3 and blockchain technology. biddz GmbH offers artists the opportunity to finance and publish their projects with the help of their fans. Fans can support their idols by investing in songs or albums. Community features and interactions are at the core of this approach.

Nicolas was involved in various backend development tasks and demonstrated a good understanding of backend technologies, software development, and system architecture. His responsibilities included designing and implementing backend solutions, supporting API development, and ensuring the smooth integration of services.

Nicolas performed his duties with a high level of professionalism and diligence. He showed strong problem-solving skills and was proactive in identifying and addressing technical challenges. His ability to work effectively both independently and as part of a team was commendable, and he consistently delivered his work on time.

Throughout his tenure, Nicolas maintained excellent communication with his colleagues and supervisors, providing valuable insights and actively contributing to project discussions. He was always open to feedback and continuously sought to improve his skills.

We highly appreciate Nicolas's contributions to the team and are confident that he will excel in his future endeavors. We wish him all the best in his professional and personal life.

Sincerely,
